IT GIVES us great pleasure to thank our friends who have favored us with their patronage during the past year. We hope that our old friends will remain with us and that we may make many more new ones.

Never before in the history of the gladioli have there been such an infinite variety to choose from; or such gorgeous deep colorings, shading down to the palest of tints.

We have added greatly to our stock and have many new varieties to offer you. And we know that you will be as pleased with these new beautiful blooms as we are.

Among the new varieties that we offer you this season are the lacinated gladioli. We have these in rose pink and bright orange, very lovely slender spikes. We also have Crinkles, Red Copper, Magic, Ruffled Beauty, Purple Queen and many others. Full description of these blooms will be found in our booklet.

We have bought in Europe some very fine specimens of Delphiniums and everyone that saw these wonderful spikes last season was enraptured with them.

Our hardy lilies were also much praised. We have several varieties.

Cedar Acres' aim in the past has been to please their customers and now with new management and better equipment we shall be able to continue with our old policy on a larger scale.

We are always glad to welcome visitors to our grounds and greenhouses.

Laciniated Petals

Lacintus

The forerunner of another new Kunderd race of gladioli. Beautiful rose-pink and under good culture will reach the size of 3 1-2 inches to 4 inches in diameter. Spike is slender, graceful and of good height. Very artistic and especially adapted for fine floral work in dainty decorations. As it is a most artistic gladiolus it is certain to become a very popular variety when the stock is one in sufficient supply to offer at low prices. A large size bulb will produce four and five spikes of blooms. Each, $10.00.

Orange Delight (1927)

Bright orange. Lower petals have pretty blotches of deep orange-red bordered with clear yellow edges. Very fine, new laciniated variety. Each, $5.00.

Lavender Beauty (1927)

Pinkish lavender, flaked deeper lavender. Lower petals a little lighter in throat with slight throat markings and narrow central lines. Nice slender plant. A worth while addition to the laciniated type. Each, $5.00.

Gladioli

NOTE: Varieties marked (Prim) are of the Primulinus Hybrids; (K) are of Kunderd's; (C A) originated at Cedar Acres.

Candidum

This is the ever popular, fragrant, snow-white, hardy garden lily, which is also known as "Annunciation Lily," and "Madonna Lily." When grown in masses these lilies are especially effective against the surrounding greenery of shrubs. 50 cents each; $5.00 per dozen.

Rubrum

White shaded and spotted with rosy crimson. 50 cents each; $5.00 per dozen.

Regale

Large home-grown bulbs, pure white shaded pink on outside of petals. $1.00 each; $10.00 per dozen.

Cultural Directions

THE Gladiolus is a flower that will grow in any kind of soil from the lightest to the heaviest, providing they are not in the shade and no green manure is used. If fertilizer is needed use any good potatoe fertilizer. Sprinkle in the rows before planting, work the soil and fertilizer together so that bulbs will not come in contact with the fertilizer.

Bulbs should not be planted until corn planting time, as nothing is gained by planting before the ground is warm. Plant the bulbs in rows or otherwise but have them from 4 to 6 inches apart. Plant bulbs from 4 to 6 inches deep according to size.

It is best to cut the spike when the first bloom appears. Cut the spike so as to leave at least 2 to 4 leaves on spike so as to develop the bulb for the next year.

Before freezing weather or as soon as the foliage turns brown or begins to die down, dig the bulbs and cut off stalk close to bulb. Cure them in the sun for a few days then store away in trays or baskets in a dry place with a temperature as near 40 to 45 degrees as possible. A good dry cellar is a desirable place for storing bulbs.

B L O O M S

UPON receipt of one dollar we will send postpaid one box of twelve Gladiolus blooms. People wishing larger amounts will be supplied at market prices f. o. b. Hamilton. Blooms going out of the state will be inspected by the state inspector so that the customer can rely on prompt delivery. These blooms will be packed properly so that they may arrive at their destination in first-class condition.
